Grown-Up Guide

Count slowly, touch each picture once, and let children choose their colors.

1

Touch and count

Have your learner point to each object while saying one number.

2

Say the last number

The final number tells how many objects are in the whole group.

3

Color after counting

Coloring builds fine-motor control and makes practice feel playful.

4

Try real objects

Count crayons, blocks, snacks, socks, or steps around the house.

5

Keep it joyful

Ten focused minutes is enough. Celebrate effort and improvement.

Count it. Color it. Celebrate it!
